

RESIDENT IS AGAINST BIG CUT IN NAVY

Country Would Be Greatly
Disappointed if Forces Were
Reduced Below 86,000

HOUSE VOTES TODAY

Eve of Battle, Both Sides Claim
Victory; Hours of Debate
Yesterday

Washington, April 14. — President Harding, in his first public utterance since the 1923 navy bill, declared in a letter presented today to the house that while the decision must lie with congress, he would be greatly disappointed, as he believed the country would be, if the enlisted force was reduced below 86,000.

The opinion was not sent gratuitously. It was given in response to a request for the President's view on the subject of the navy bill, which is a bill limiting the force to 87,000. There had been no official statement of the effect that the President opposed a drastic reduction in the measure. The letter to the house, however, was in presenting the letter toward the house of an all-day debate, Mr. Longworth said he was glad to accept the challenge from friends of the measure, and framed to find out what the President wanted and to let the house know.

The President's letter, bearing the date of today, follows:

President Harding's Letter.

My Dear Congressman Longworth: I have to acknowledge your letter of inquiry addressed to me on a tenth instant. If I were to address a congress formally, I could say that I have already said finally because I am well persuaded that it is not wise to make so drastic a cut in the naval appropriations as is proposed in the measure now pending in the house. I do not doubt the good faith of the committee majority in believing that the navy can be maintained under the limitations fixed in the pending bill, and I am heartily in accord with every consistent effort to deepen it in governmental expenditures. At the same time, I must believe in the good faith of the navy department and our naval officers, who say that it is not possible to maintain within the proposed appropriations the standard set for our navy which we made the basis of the international conference, and which standard we have proclaimed to the world.

Of course, the decision must lie with congress, but I should not be frank in replying to your inquiry. I do not say that I shall be greatly disappointed, and I believe the country will be greatly disappointed, if the appropriation to which the navy must adhere is reduced to the extent that the limit of 87,000 men and apprentices is below 86,000, a presentation of the situation, which has come to my notice, has served to alter that opinion.

Ultimately, perhaps, the lower figures proposed may be reached and I one it will be possible through which the navy will be able to meet the trend of the world, but the trend toward peace and security ought to be more firmly established before going beyond the limitations to which we were already committed at the international conference.

"Very truly yours,
"Warren G. Harding."

Vote Comes Saturday.

The vote on the enlisted provision section will come tomorrow. On the eve of the battle, both sides tonight will be claiming victory. Friends of the "big navy" had planned early today to force the fight over until next week, but Chairman Kelley resisted all attempts to delay. When the measure was called up to be read, item by item, the clerk had barely turned a page when the fight started on the enlisted question, and it raged unceasingly until midnight. In the end, the house went by hours of talk, quite nine pages ahead of the disputed provision.

One amendment was accepted and one was voted down. There was no objection to the first, by Representative Townner of Iowa, by which the navy was to be increased from $250,000 to $242,000 for the government of the Virgin Islands, but the other, for increasing the appropriation for the Great Lakes Naval Training station from $160,000 to $260,000 offered by Representative Chidambro, Republican of Illinois, the home state of the station, was rejected, 56 to 22. But the figure did not represent the full voting strength on the floor.

Military Preparedness Considered.

Washington, April 14.—The question of military preparedness arose today in the senate appropriations committee during its consideration of the army appropriation bill. Discussion of the subject was brief, but senators said the question of a national policy had grown out of the fight over the house reduction in the size of the army.

Major General Harford, deputy chief of staff, and Brigadier General William Laster, in charge of military operations and training, appeared before the committee to present the war department's views on the subject of the house cut, the former insisting that the organization was strained to the breaking point now under the forced reduction of a year, and the latter describing the plan adopted by the department for "building up at low expense."

ARAB UPRISING IN PALESTINE FEARED

Proposal to Make Country National Homeland for the Jews
Violently Opposed

By the Associated Press.

Jerusalem, April 14.—Open advice to the Arabs is being given by Palestine, the leading Arab daily, to copy the Egyptian example and organize real attacks so as to compel the British government to abolish the Balfour declaration making Palestine a national homeland for the Jews.

This, coupled with Lord Northcliffe's assertion, made while he was in this country, that there was bound to be an upheaval in Palestine soon, is causing great disquietude in Jewish circles.

Easter time has always been an anxious period in Palestine. Even in the Turkish days, special troops had to be concentrated in the larger cities to guard against disorders among the Christians and the Moslems. Now that the Christians and followers of Mohammed are politically united against the Jews, however, the latter find themselves in grave dangers. They still remember that the Jerusalem disturbance and the troubles at Jaffa took place during Easter week.

The proposed reduction of British officials serving in the Palestine administration and their substitution by Jewish officials also is helping to aggravate matters.

"Every British official moved from Palestine," asserts the Beit Ul Makdes, a Jerusalem Arab daily, "means the tightening of the strangle hold of Zionists upon our government. We resist such a move with force, even to the last drop of Arabian blood."

GENERAL SEMENOFF STILL IS IN JAIL

Crowds of Cossack-Haters Crowd
About Building, Anxious to Hiss Russian Leader

New York, April 14.—General Gregorio Semenov, ataman of the Cossacks, was still in Ludlow street jail tonight waiting for $25,000 bail. Outside, crowding the street, perched on railings, leaning from windows, even sitting on edges of roofs, were thousands who waited for him, not to cheer but to hiss and boo the leader of the Cossacks.

Most of the thousands who milled about the jail during the day knew the Cossacks. Most of them were men and women of Russia, who live in the thickly-settled districts of the Lower East Side. If they did not know themselves what the hard-driving Cossacks can do, they had been told by their fathers and mothers, who had fled from Russian massacres, and they had no love for Semenov.

Early in the day, police reserves were called out. They grappled with the throngs, ready to meet any possible trouble, or to open a passage-way through the crowds when called to the jail. Once or twice the reserves went into the tenements nearby and drove the people from the roofs.

MR. SPEYER'S DECISION.

New York, April 14.—James Speyer, criticized by Miss Evangeline Booth for his "wet" activities, will retire as head of the executive committee directing the Salvation Army's drives for funds, but will remain a member of the committee.

This was announced late today at the end of a meeting attended by both Mr. Speyer and Miss Booth, army commander.

Asked by reporters if he would continue his anti-prohibition activities, the banker replied:

"Yet bet!"

The forces required in a national emergency.

"If provision is not made for 150,000 men," said General Harford, "then we who are charged with operation and maintenance of the work must ask congress to restate for us the mission of the army."

IRISH FORCES STAGE BIG COUP

300 Anti-Treaty Men Seize Dublin
Court Building and Hotel
for Headquarters

EXCITING EVENTS

Lorry Carrying Royal Constabulary
Fired On, But Further Conflict
Is Not Expected

(By the Associated Press.)

Dublin, April 14.—Early today the biggest coup yet effected by the anti-treaty party was carried out. Some 300 armed men, marching in two columns, seized the Four Courts building, formerly the seat of the national court of justice, and the Four Courts hotel nearby. No opposition was encountered.

Guests at the hotel were ejected and the two buildings were fortified, passers-by being pressed into service filling sandbags and piling up stocks of books and documents.

The seizure was reminiscent of Easter week, 1916, when the same buildings were besieged and similarly fortified. Great alarm was caused in Dublin when the events of the early morning became known, until the explanation was vouchsafed by the anti-treaty men that the buildings had been taken because they were more fitted for their headquarters than the present headquarters in Rutland square.

More Disorders in Dublin.

London, April 14.—Shots were fired tonight on the college green in Dublin at a lorry carrying Royal Irish constabulary, says a Dublin message to the Daily Mail. No one was injured. British troops have been confined to their barracks under orders which will not expire until Tuesday. Windows at the central station of the Dublin metropolitan police have been shattered with loop-hole steel. Despite the day's exciting events, it is added, a conflict on a large scale is not expected in Dublin.

A late Dublin dispatch to the London Times says an armed party today seized the British-Indian steam pocket shed at the north wall. It is not known how this will affect sailings. Movements were occurring in various parts of the city tonight. It is reported the Republicans seized additional buildings. The caretaker of a telephone exchange was shot and wounded.

Commandant Frederick O'Connor, of the staff of the independent Irish Republican army, is quoted as saying that there was doubt whether Eamon DeValera would approve any agreement which he knew would not be made effective.

"In any event," said the commandant, "I want to make it perfectly clear we are absolutely independent of DeValera's political organization. We consider guerrilla tactics our only hope, although we have other schemes."

DU PONT CHEMICAL COMPANY TO DISTRIBUTE ITS ASSETS

Wilmington, Del., April 14.—The Du Pont Chemical company, organized at the close of the World war to take over and dispose of the DuPont company's abandoned war plants and excess war materials, has finished its work and is arranging to distribute its assets to its stockholders.

Under the plan adopted for the liquidation, stockholders on record at the close of business on May 20, 1922, will be entitled to receive for each share of stock $2.35 in cash, one-fifth of a share of Du Pont stock, and one share of the stock of the Industrial Salvage company, organized to take over the remaining assets and liabilities of the chemical company. The assets (net) are estimated at $1,720,000 or about $2.45 a share. This distribution will amount to something more than $14 a share in Du Pont Chemical company stockholders.

PRESIDENT HARDING HAS CONFIDENCE IN GOV. REILY

Washington, April 14.—President Harding has the utmost confidence in the integrity of Governor E. Mont Reily of Porto Rico, it was said today at the White House. The executive, it was added, does not view the situation in the insular possession as serious, although it was said there have been some irritating features in connection with recent developments therein involving Governor Reily and other officials.

WORLD WAR VETERANS TO BE ADMITTED AT OXFORD, BATH

Albany, April 14.—The Whitcomb bill authorizing the admission of veterans of the World war to the state Soldiers' and Sailors' homes at Bath and Oxford was signed today by Governor Miller. The measure was supported by the American legion, and the pen with which the governor signed the bill will be presented by officials of the state department of the legion.

EXIT "PUT AND TAKE" TOP.

Albany, April 14.—The Duke bill, declared to have been drawn with a view of banning the "put and take" game, was signed today by Governor Miller. The language of the new law specifically prohibits the sale of any instrument, device or implement "in the use of which there is an element of chance for winning or losing money."

M'CORMACK, IRISH TENOR, TO GO UNDER KNIFE AGAIN

New York, April 14.—John McCormack, famous Irish tenor, who has been dangerously ill with an affection of the throat, will have to undergo another operation to clear his throat of pus formations. His physician, Dr. A. C. Dupont, stated today that by Monday the singer's throat, which was still badly swollen, would be ready for another lancing.

"Mr. McCormack has passed the crisis," said Mr. Dupont. "His condition is somewhat better. He can swallow with less pain but he will not be able to sing for many months."

'POP' ANSON, NOTED BASEBALL STAR OF BY-GONE DAYS, DEAD

Former Manager of Chicago Nationals, and "Greatest Player of Them All," Passes Away Following Operation

Chicago, April 14.—Adrian C. Anson, old-time baseball player, known to millions of fans as "Pop" Anson, died today.

Mr. Anson was stricken while out walking last Sunday and was rushed to a hospital where he was operated upon for glandular trouble. For a day or two his condition was critical, but he rallied and was thought to be out of danger. Today he suffered a relapse.

Mr. Anson was more than 70 years old, but despite his age was active in outdoor life up to a few days before his death. Only recently becoming manager of a new golf club. While much of his life was spent on the baseball diamond, his first games being played when he was still in his teens, in recent years he had become a great devotee of golf. He seldom missed a day of golf during the summer months, and he was known to thousands of public link golfers who knew him simply as "Old Man Anson" without realizing that he was one of the first baseball players in the professional game, and that he was an international character.

He was known through his life as an advocate of clean sports and a man who had done much to build up baseball and keep it on a high plane. Under his managerial guidance the Chicago Nationals won pennants in 1890-1 and 1891-2, and again in 1895-6. From 1876 to 1897, with the exception of two years, Anson batted over .300, his highest average being in 1887, when he registered .421. During this period of 22 years his grand batting average was .348, and he led the National league six years and was second or third many other seasons. In the field he was an equally brilliant player. For six years he was accorded first place among the first basemen, his fielding average ranging from .938 to .974.

Anson was described during the heyday of his baseball career as the most perfect player of the age. Over six feet tall, weighing 175 pounds in condition, he was a lightning fast fielder and base runner, and batted with tremendous power. As a manager he was a strict disciplinarian, demanding absolute obedience and temperate habits in his players.

Anson made two trips abroad as an American baseball player. In 1874 he was a member of the American team which toured England, playing both baseball and cricket. The team knew little or nothing of cricket, but their terrific batting offset their other playing defects and they won every cricket game played, including a victory over the famous Marylebone All-England eleven by the score of 107 to 105 runs. In 1888 he toured the world with the National League players party, which included John K. Tener, A. G. Spalding, John M. Ward, Ed. Hanlon and many other noted players of the day.

After Anson's retirement from baseball he opened a billiard hall in Chicago and later entered the political field. He was elected city clerk for one term, but failed of re-election. In 1909-10 he managed a semi-professional team and toured the country, but all these ventures were financial failures. He was more successful in a vaudeville monologue act in which he appeared in later years.

BELIEVE TARIFF SHOULD COME FIRST

Both President and Senate Leaders
Said to Favor Postponing
Bonus Consideration

Washington, April 14.—President Harding was declared today at the White House to be of the opinion that tariff legislation should be given precedence in the senate over the soldier bonus bill.

Although it was clear that the President had received no request from Republican leaders in the senate for advice as to which measure should be taken up first, it is understood that the views of both the chief executive and the senatorial leaders coincide in the present-day plans, the tariff will be taken up in the senate next Thursday, while the finance committee considers the bonus bill, with the possibility that it may make radical changes in it as it was passed by the house. When the bonus measure has been removed to the senate, it will be taken up for consideration during lulls in the tariff debate.

The bonus bill is expected to be ready for senate consideration in about a fortnight.

CLERKS' CHIEF ATTACKS ROADS

They Fight for Public Before Labor Board and Against It in Washington, He Charges

OPPOSES WAGE CUTS

"Would Put Our Men One Step Nearer Animal Existence," Fitzgerald Declares

Chicago, April 14.—Railroad management were a hard to be fighting for the public before the Railroad Labor board here and battling against it in Washington before the Interstate Commerce commission, when the railway clerks presented their opposition to wage cuts to the labor board today.

"The carriers are now arguing in Washington that a rate reduction cannot be made on the basis of wage reductions," declared E. H. Fitzgerald, president of the clerks' union. "Before this board they promised to translate wage reductions into rate decreases."

"They are fighting for the public here and battling against it in Washington. They are similarly arguing that such a rate reduction would not stimulate traffic, while here their first and primary assumption is that reduction of wages would be felt in rates, resulting in increased traffic. Wage reductions in the past resulted in dividend increases; a reduction now would probably have the same result to judge by the attitude of the carriers before the commerce commission."

Mr. Fitzgerald interspersed numerous exhibits with attacks on the roads, which he declared would "put our men one step nearer an animal existence to provide augmented incomes for the railway owners" if they succeeded in obtaining another wage cut.

In tying a promise of lower rates to their wage cut request, Mr. Fitzgerald said, the roads had "tried to capitalize the sentiment for lower rates and directed against their employees."

"The carriers have attempted to place the responsibility for higher rates, higher prices and even industrial depression, on the railway workers," he asserted, adding that for 36 years the carriers' wage bill had been 43.6 per cent. of their operating expenses, while in October, 1921, the latest month for which figures were available, labor cost but 40.3 per cent of expenses.

PROHIBITION NAVY FIRES FIRST SHOT

It Was Only a Blank, But Rum
Runner Nevertheless Turned Back Toward Bahamas

New York, April 14.—The first shot of the new prohibition navy of Uncle Sam has been fired in the war against liquor pirates.

The little Mehalatos, former submarine chaser, steamed into port tonight to announce that the first shot was fired last night when she encountered a supposed rum runner five miles off the New York shores. It was only a blank shot but it had the desired effect, for the suspected craft doused all lights, showed her stern and sailed speedily in the direction of the Bahamas. The Mehalatos followed the mysterious craft for three hours but gave up the chase with the appearance of rough seas.

The Mehalatos, with Captain Howland and M. Wessell by warrant officer and reporter of the New York World aboard, was on her first voyage as a vessel of the prohibition navy. It was dusk when the mystery craft was sighted. Every light in the submarine chaser was extinguished. They drew close and the captain baled the strange boat receiving the response that she was bound to Canada from the Bahamas, in answer to his query as to what they had aboard, came the early reply, "Come over and see," and the stranger, a two-masted power boat of 150 tons, set her engines going and turned seaward.

It was then that Captain Wessell fired the shot that marked the opening of naval warfare by America's prohibition navy.

TURKISH NATIONALISTS AND GREEKS AGAIN HARD AT IT

Athens, Greece, April 14.—Resumption of hostilities between the Greeks and Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor on a larger scale than hitherto reported this spring, was reported in a communique today from General Papoulas, commander of the Greek forces. The communique told of an all-day engagement on the Afium-Karahisar front when 1,000 Turks, using artillery, attacked the Greeks without success.

WASH-OUTS CAUSE TROUBLE Spring Races, Mass., April 14.

Through service to Montreal was resumed tonight on the Central Vermont line between White River Junction, St. Albans, Vt., where traffic had been tied up for more than 48 hours as a result of a wash-out. Trains have been detained by way of Fellsburg Falls and Rutland. Service on the Passumpsic division of the Boston and Maine system was restored this afternoon. Railroad officials anticipated no further delays because of flood conditions in rivers in the Connecticut valley. Rapid recession from all points tonight.

THIRD TRAGEDY IN GLICKSTEIN FAMILY

Widow of Brooklyn Doctor Who Was Slain Last December,
Commits Suicide

New York, April 14.—Another tragedy growing out of the sensational murder of Dr. Abraham Glickstein by Mrs. Lillian Raizen in Brooklyn last December was recorded today when his widow, Mrs. Anna Glickstein, ended her life by leaping from the third story window of her mother's home in Brooklyn. The doctor's mother dropped dead at his funeral.

Mrs. Glickstein had been laboring under a heavy mental strain since her husband had been shot, members of the family indicated, and it was said she had been brooding over the recent acquittal of Oliver M. P. Stone for the murder of Ellis Guy Kinkadee, former Cincinnati lawyer, Mrs. Raizen, who confessed she killed Dr. Glickstein, is now a prisoner in the same jail where Miss Stone was incarcerated awaiting trial.

Mrs. Lillian Raizen, mother of Mrs. Glickstein, said that at the time of Miss Stone's trial her daughter exclaimed, "If the Stone woman goes free, the woman who murdered my husband will go free. Anyway, as long as the doctor is dead I might as well be dead myself."

The daughter of the woman, who came from Lakewood, N. J., to spend the holiday season, slept with her last night, the mother retiring about midnight. Frances said her mother seemed to be a little more cheerful than usual. She awoke early this morning and found her mother missing. Soon afterward a policeman who had found the body on the sidewalk awakened the family.

Mrs. Glickstein's head had struck an iron post at the entrance to the house.

Third Death in Tragedy.
The suicide of Mrs. Glickstein is the third death in a tragedy which began last December, when Dr. Abraham Glickstein, a practicing physician of some prominence in Brooklyn, was slain by a woman who had been admitted with other patients to his office.

Dr. Glickstein's mother fell dead when she viewed his body upon its being taken into the Glickstein home. For several days the police of New York pursued various clues, but three days after the shooting a woman named Mrs. Lillian Raizen surrendered to the police, confessing she had shot and killed him.

Mrs. Raizen is now a prisoner in the Diamond street jail awaiting trial.

TEACHER UNDULY FAMILIAR WITH GIRL STUDENTS OUSTED

Asbury Park, N. J., April 14.—A. A. Wilson, local high school teacher, charged with being unduly familiar with girl students, was found guilty and ordered removed at a meeting of the school board here tonight. The discussion occupied three hours and a score of witnesses were heard. The final vote was 3 to 2 for dismissal.

While Wilson was declared guilty of conduct unbecoming a teacher, the board in an announcement stated that it did not find that his conduct involved immoral purposes or intent.

Following the meeting, Wilson's counsel, A. J. C. Stokes of Freehold, characterized the accusations and suspension as "a frame-up," because will be taken, he said, to the highest court of the state.

SAILOR FRIEDMAN AND THREE OTHERS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Chicago, April 14.—William (Sailor) Friedman, a boxer, and three others were held for the grand jury today as alleged accessories to the killing of Ab Rubin, on recommendation of a coroner's jury. Rubin was shot during a poolroom fight last Sunday. Max Miller, William Cohn, and David Edelman were the others held. The jury recommended that Louis Bonomo, still at liberty, be apprehended and held for the grand jury on a charge of murder. Bonomo, according to witnesses, fired the shot which killed Rubin.

ENRIGHT IS WORRIED

Abolishes Police Vacation List and Orders Precinct Captains to
"Sleep on Arms"

New York, April 14.—Police Commissioner Enright today ordered all precinct captains to "sleep on their arms" after detectives had revealed an alleged plot of bandit gangsters systematically to rob office safes below the "red line" in the downtown financial section.

The order, which followed a confession said to have been made by George Breckenridge, a night watchman, in which he involved a band of safe crackers and a girl accomplice in the robbery of seven offices in a single building last night, directed the precinct captains to remain on duty virtually 24 hours a day, sleeping at the station house instead of going home, as had been their custom.

In addition, Commissioner Enright temporarily abolished the police vacation list, thus keeping on active duty 200 men a week who were scheduled for leaves of absence.

A considerable number of these men will be available for extra patrol duty in the financial district, it was said. The order was to become effective at midnight tonight.

Breckenridge was still in custody tonight while police sought a stenographer known as "Gay Baby," former pal of a prisoner at Sing Sing.

"Gay Baby" an Advance Worker.
"Gay Baby," according to the watchman's alleged confession, was an advance worker for the bandits which last night entered a 20-story insurance building, cracked safes on seven floors, and escaped with booty valued at nearly $100,000. Breckenridge, who first said he had been slugged into unconsciousness, bound and gagged by the bandits, later admitted he added them in their work, the police asserted.

The superintendent of the building said Breckenridge, a member of the police reserves, had obtained his job as watchman on the strength of a letter of recommendation written on police department stationery and purporting to have been signed by Captain Wynn of the East 67th street station.

The girl would obtain employment in one of the offices closed by the gang, make plans of the building and learn the method of handling the money. Then she would turn her information over to her bandit lover, and resign, according to the police, sharing the loot when the gang did the job.

The building had been thoroughly combed by the bandit gang of nine, which calmly knocked off work to watch a midnight lunch, and evaded by criminals found on the floor in front of one safe that had been opened.

An indication that some members of the band hailed from upstate was found from the fact that burglar tools left behind were wrapped in a copy of an Albany newspaper of April 2.

Another robbery was added to the long list which detectives are trying to clear up when John A. Hanco, Broadway police station, informed today that burglars had roused him and his wife from bed, and compelled them to reveal where the family jewels and cash were kept.

SPECIAL BOARD OF INQUIRY COMPLETES PROBST CASE

New York, April 14.—The special board of inquiry at the Ellis Island immigration station, which has been hearing testimony in the case of August Probst, an alien seaman awaiting deportation, completed its report today and sent it to the secretary of labor at Washington. Probst, who was employed as a butler at the fashionable Rolling Rock club at Ligonier, Pa., following his arrest, was accused of being a British seaman, claimed that he was being "railroaded" from the country because of his love affair with a young Pittsburgh society woman.

His deportation was ordered by immigration authorities on the ground that he was mentally incompetent and likely to become a public charge.

Governor Miller Vetoes "Educational Measure"

Albany, April 14.—The Ferris bill, which sought to require seed distributors to label their products with the name of the locality from which they came, or if unknown, to so mark it, was vetoed today by Governor Miller. In explaining the reason for the veto, the governor said:

"The sponsors of this bill admit that it cannot be enforced, but urge it as an educational measure. A measure which puts a premium on dishonesty is of doubtful educational value. The subject should receive further study and, if possible, a measure should be drawn which will afford real protection to the purchasers of seeds. Meanwhile, the educational campaign of the State College of Agriculture and of the experiment stations need not be interrupted."

U. S. HAS GARDEN OF FIREWORKS

World's Most Active Volcanic Region is in Alaska.

MOUNT REDOUBT BREAKS OUT

It Forms, So Far as Known, Landward End of Chain of Volcanoes Which Stretch Along Aleutian Islands for 1,200 Miles and Which Have Been Spouting Fire at Intervals for Hundreds of Thousands of Years—Chance to Solve Stubborn Problems.

"The waking into activity of Mount Redoubt in Alaska just reported by wireless and cable serves to remind the people of the United States that in the Alaska peninsula and the Aleutian islands, which sweep from it almost to Asia, they possess one of the most extensive and most active volcanic regions on the face of the earth," says a bulletin issued from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"Redoubt is not remote from the settled portions of Alaska," continues the bulletin, "but rises close to the western shore of Cook Inlet, at the head of which is Anchorage, an important port on the Alaska railroad recently constructed by the federal government. This mountain and a companion peak, Iliamna, are conspicuous landmarks for ships which steam up Cook Inlet. They are almost perfect cones, and with their snow-covered caps serve very well as American versions of the famous Fujiyama of Japan. Redoubt forms, so far as is now known, the landward end of the long chain of volcanoes which stretch to the southwest ward along the Aleutian Islands for more than 1,200 miles, and which have been spouting fire at intervals for hundreds of thousands of years.

"Mountains That 'Blow Their Heads Off.' "Although Redoubt, passive for nearly 20 years, is showing only clouds of steam, those who have observed the volcanoes of the Alaskan chain are not reassured, for these volcanoes have a disconcerting way of 'blowing their heads off' with little warning. Katmai, 300 miles to the south, which is one of the chain that had long been dormant, exploded suddenly in 1912, constituting one of the dozen greatest eruptions of historic times. A scientific expedition sent to the crater by the National Geographic society found that two cubic miles of material had been blown from this previously passive mountain. It was while making a study of Katmai that the society's expedition found that unique natural phenomenon, 'The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes.' Augustine mountain in Cook Inlet, less than 100 miles from Redoubt, and long noted for its perfect cone, blew its top off suddenly in 1883, leaving only a jagged stump. The whole Alaskan volcanic chain is a unit of volcanic action, and it is always problematical where the next outbreak will occur.

Chance to Solve Stubborn Problems. "To scientists one of the significant features in connection with the existence of the extensive volcanic region in Alaska is the fact that it is situated where in the future at least it will be easily accessible for study. And there is much room for the study of volcanoes. Although volcanism was probably one of the first of nature's spectacular phenomena to thrill man it presents one of the few obvious problems about which science has no satisfactory hypothesis. Just where the heat comes from which melts stone, why it is concentrated within definite areas, from what depths the molten material rises and why it rises—these are some of the problems about which there has been much speculation, but in regard to which few satisfactory theories exist.

"Telltale fossils and types of rock show that the mountains of the Alaskan peninsula and the Aleutian islands are older than either the Himalayas or the Alps, systems which are practically without volcanoes. It does not follow, however, that volcanic activity accompanies age, for the Appalachians, among the oldest mountains of the earth, have no volcanoes."

The Sabbath night had passed, and in the east

The first pale streaks of rose foretold the day.

When from the city, Mary Magdalene And others, bearing spices, came to lay

Them in the Master's tomb.

They marveled that the stone which had been sealed

Was rolled away, and stooping down they saw

Inside the tomb two angels robed in white,

Whose radiance made them bow their heads in awe—

"He is not here," they heard.

"Did He not say that He would rise again?"

Seek ye the living, then, among the dead?"

And, trembling, Mary and the others went

To His disciples, telling what was said.

Yet one would not believe.

For Thomas told his brethren, "Till I've thrust

My hand into the Master's wounded side,

And felt the prints of nails inside His hands,

I'll not believe He lives again who died."

And later Christ appeared.

He bade the doubting Thomas make his tests,

Who did and said, "My Lord," and Christ replied,

"Because you have beheld me, you believe,

But those who have not seen my hands and side

And yet believe, are blessed."

NEW HEALTH DISTRICT

Maryland and Schenectady Boards of Health Consolidated.

Schenectady, April 14.—At a recent joint meeting of the board of health of the town of Maryland and the board of health of the village of Schenectady, it was voted that the two boards be consolidated. The state commissioner has approved the plan and notice is hereby given that the new health district will be known as the Consolidated Health district of the town of Maryland and the Village of Schenectady.

The new board consists of the following members: E. R. Campbell, president; George Hall, George Chamberlain and E. C. Winsor, health officers. The plan of consolidation is a good one and has been worked successfully in many places. This procedure unifies health reports, auditing of bills, and many other health problems.

THE ZONING SYSTEM.
As readers of The Star have no doubt observed, there is to be a public forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening at Municipal hall. The subject to be considered is the adoption of the Zoning system in Oneonta; and as the matter is one in which every resident of the city to some extent is interested, whether owner of real estate or not, it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. The meeting is the first tentative step toward the definite establishing of typical regions of construction throughout the city, and the formulation of rules relative thereto. Heretofore the only attempt at zoning has been in the business section, within what is known in the charter and ordinances of the city as the fire limits. In this, even, the matter of regulation has been mainly confined to material and methods of construction, other matters, such as relative area of lots and size and height of buildings being largely left to the wishes of the owner. Should the proposed general measure be enacted, it will be the first thing which heretofore have not been considered which will be embraced in the regulations. As has been stated, the broad general characterizations are of three types of districts—residential, commercial and industrial. As is clearly evident, the same exact rules could not be applied to each, but there can be general rules modified to meet specific localities and conditions. These modified rules, and their character and extent, are what interest citizens generally. On business streets the most important things are the size and height of buildings as compared to the lots they occupy, and the material of which they are constructed, since these two things are important from a sanitary standpoint and the safeguarding of life. This also had application to industrial centers, but in residential sections the strict rules as to materials and general construction would naturally be modified. Still it is important that the supervision of the fire chief, or such other officer as has due authority, should extend not only the general plan of buildings within the city limits, but that he should afterwards inspect the work and know that the plans so far as public safety are concerned have been complied with. Also there should be definite rules as to location of houses themselves and of porches on residence streets, something which to the present time has not in every instance been regarded. The one important thing in connection with all zoning plans is recognition of the fact that the rights of the public as to health, safety and property valuation, among other things, are paramount to the wishes of the individual. As in business and industrial sections, the destruction of one building by fire often leads to that of others—a fact which takes the erection of a new structure out of the realm of merely personal interest, and in residential sections the same thing applies, and along with it the fact that the location of a dwelling out of line with others on the same street may readily impair the value of all property for a considerable distance. The zoning system, it may briefly be stated, is designed to give everybody a fair show. These are by no means all the matters which the zoning system is intended to correct, but they are at least illustrative. The meeting of Monday is therefore of interest to every citizen, and it is hoped that there will be a large number present.

SMALL FRUITS EXPERIMENTS
Intensive Studies of Different Varieties Planned at Geneva State Station.
Geneva, April 14.—Studies of tree and small fruits have, for a number of years, formed an important part of the work of the New York Agricultural Experiment station at Geneva; and all of the varieties of tree fruits which can be grown on the station grounds, including apples, peaches, plums, cherries, and pears, have been tested and carefully described. Horticulturists at the station now propose to inaugurate similar studies with the small fruits, such as currants, raspberries, gooseberries, blackberries and strawberries. Much work has already been done at the station in breeding and selecting improved strains of the small fruits, but the proposed line of investigation is expected to be much more comprehensive than anything previously attempted in that an effort will be made to plant all known varieties of small fruits that are likely to prove hardy under New York conditions. An examination of nursery catalogs from all parts of the country revealed the fact that some 150 varieties of the different small fruits have been noted and are distributed about as follows: Currants, 30; gooseberries, 25; black raspberries, 27; red raspberries, 41; purple raspberries, 8; blackberries and dewberries, 67; ever-bearing strawberries, 25; and June-bearing strawberries, 200. Stocks of many of these varieties are to be set out on the station grounds this spring. It is planned to publish reports from time to time, as the work progresses, setting forth the characteristics of the different varieties and showing their relative value for New York state.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS
"Columbus, We are Here!"
The British Premier's reference to "the distinguished citizen of Genoa who discovered America" and his hope that "Genoa can again render immortal service to humanity by rediscovering Europe to America," reaffirms his oft expressed confidence that ultimately the United States will come to the aid of European restoration.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.]
Germany Will Behave.
It may be taken for granted, then, that Germany will accept the fact that the war is over, will drop the discussion of the question of war guilt, will look not backward, but to the future. She realizes full well that it was the United States which brought final and complete defeat to her forces in the war, but she knows also that good terms with this country offer her the best hope for the future.—[New York Sun.]
What "Week" is This?
"Returned Borrowed Articles Week" and "Bestow a Thought on Your Creditors Week" are now generally observed, but Give Your Mother-in-law a Kiss Week" and Wave a Hand to Your Neighbor Week" have once or twice regrettably telescoped "Pick Up Waste Paper Week" and "Eat a Prune for Prudence Week." Hasty persons who have kissed mother-in-law prune week and eaten a prune in waste paper week will not now be proceeded against, but the societies having these weeks in charge recognize that mistakes like these cannot go on.—[Kansas City Star.]

Luck in Inventions.
The claim made by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, in a recent interview, that he had employed the principle of wireless transmission of sound in a crude way, while he was busy about the development of the telephone many years ago, recalls the happy accident by which Dr. Bell had stumbled upon the invention of the telephone some years before that. It also emphasizes the fact that the discoverer of a new scientific principle is in the eyes of the world, not necessarily the man who first happens upon it, but the man who develops and perfects it.—[Philadelphia Record.]

Garlick Improving.
The condition of Charles Garlick of Goodyear Lake, who was stricken with acute bronchial influenza last Friday is considered to be much improved and the chance for a speedy recovery is very encouraging. It is reported that his temperature is normal and that the danger of pneumonia is very slight. Two trained nurses are still in attendance.
Claims He Wasn't Driving Fast.
Elmer Watson, arrested Thursday evening by Officer Terrell for violating the city speed ordinance, pleaded not guilty in city court yesterday. Judge Huntington adjourned the case until this morning. It is claimed that Watson drove his car on River street between Ponda and Mosher avenues at a speed of 35 miles an hour.

THE RESURRECTION
1 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might anoint him.
2 And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.
3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?
4 And when they looked, they beheld the stone was rolled away.
5 And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.
6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is not here: behold the place where he lay.
7 But go your way, and tell my disciples, and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall you see him, as he said unto you.
8 And they went out quickly to every creature.
9 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might anoint him.
10 And she went and told them that who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?
11 And they, when they had heard that the stone was rolled away, believed not.
12 After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they right side, clothed in a long white garment; and went into the country.
13 And they went and told it unto the disciples: neither believed they them.
14 Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and up not here: behold the place where he lay.
15 And they, when they had heard that the stone was rolled away, believed not.
16 And he said unto them, Go ye and preach the gospel to every creature.
17 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might anoint him.
18 And she went and told them that who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?
19 And they, when they had heard that the stone was rolled away, believed not.
20 After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they right side, clothed in a long white garment; and went into the country.
21 And they went and told it unto the disciples: neither believed they them.
22 Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and up not here: behold the place where he lay.
23 And they, when they had heard that the stone was rolled away, believed not.
24 And he said unto them, Go ye and preach the gospel to every creature.
25 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might anoint him.
26 And she went and told them that who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?
27 And they, when they had heard that the stone was rolled away, believed not.
28 After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they right side, clothed in a long white garment; and went into the country.
29 And they went and told it unto the disciples: neither believed they them.
30 Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and up not here: behold the place where he lay.
31 And they, when they had heard that the stone was rolled away, believed not.
32 And he said unto them, Go ye and preach the gospel to every creature.

STATE INCOME TAX DUE TODAY

Returns Must Be in or Postmarked Before Midnight Tonight — No Great Change in State Tax This Year.
Today is the last for filing returns and paying the tax to the state for income received during 1921. H. V. Farrell, auditor from the State Income Tax bureau, will be at the Chamber of Commerce offices both morning and afternoon to render assistance to those who desire aid in making out their blanks.
On Monday the investigation division of the Income Tax bureau will begin work checking up those who have failed to file returns by midnight tonight. If late returns are sent by mail, either to the district offices or to Albany, they must bear postmark before midnight tonight. According to Auditor Farrell there has been no pronounced last minute rush in the city to pay the tax and he is of the opinion that most of the returns are in by this time. He expects his work today with taxpayers will be light.
The officials of the bureau have found considerable confusion during the present collection period due to the many important changes which were made in the federal income tax provisions and the belief on the part of many taxpayers under the state law that the changes apply there as well. There has been only one change of any importance to the general taxpayer in the state law this year. This relates to the question of residence and defines as a resident for the purpose of this law a person who is domiciled in the state or any person who maintains a home in the state for an aggregate of more than seven months of the taxable year.
The personal exemptions remain the same as last year; the allowable deductions are the same, and the tax is the same under the state income tax law.
A Greater Nuisance.
A short time ago the State Conservation commission granted an order permitting the killing of skunks out of season in the village of Cooperstown, where they had become a nuisance to numerous. Following on the heels of the permission, small boys and some others began setting traps for them and, as was testified by a prevalent odor, the second nuisance was greater than the first. The village fathers on Monday evening took the matter in hand and, under the powers given by law, passed a resolution prohibiting the trapping of the pretty fur-bearers. Since then the atmosphere has cleared and skunks and other village pests are happy again.

NATURE'S EASTER TOKENS.

(Written by a one-time resident of our city.)
The reddening tree-tops,
Thou' with verdure unclothed still;
Their smaller arcs of swaying,
Erewhile lashed by Boreas' will;
The small responsive grasses,
Footed nath their rusty coat;
The brighter flecks of color,
Sending forth enlivening note,
Betoken Nature's Easter.
And among the deepening grasses,
Here and there a tiny creature,
Ventures from its winter solstice,
Adding a reviving feature;
These divers forms of life,
Welcome coming spring,
But without the joy,
Its return to man doth bring.
This change from chill to cheer.
For besides this life and beauty,
To him, it meaneth more—
The resurrection after death,
Through Christ, the Open Door:
O, would the Easter-tide might bring,
A fit response alway,
By quickening more the spiritual,
Unto eternal day—
The Easter of the Soul.
—Florist

A NOTABLE DECREASE

Franklin Reduces Prices to Lowest Level in 16 Years.
Syracuse, April 15.—Prices of Franklin cars were announced today which are the lowest in the history of the Franklin company's sixteen years manufacture of six-cylinder cars, with the single exception of a four-month period in 1916.
In the statement issued by H. H. Franklin, reductions as much as $1500 under war prices are indicated. Touring car at $1950 and Sedan at $2850 are typical of the new schedule of prices applying to the entire Franklin line.
"We determined to get under the price level of July, 1914, the month the World War started, and also under the level of March, 1917, the month before the United States entered the war," Mr. Franklin said. "So today our basis is pre-war from any angle you take it. This move puts us in position to attain large volume in the quality car field."
"While coincident with this price reduction we are reducing overhead, wage rates will not be disturbed at present. As far as inventories are concerned, the Franklin company shows a favorable condition due to selling well ahead of the industry as a whole during 1921."

OTSEGO COUNTY BOY

Meets With Success on Vaudeville Stage.

Will Appear at Oneonta Theatre Today

Ten years ago Whitney Ward left Otsego county with but one intent to come day be capable of holding a place on the Vaudeville stage. Aside from his father and mother who now reside in Sidney, Whitney was the only one who was confident that some day his fondest hope would be realized, and today this same Whitney Ward who left the little village in Otsego county ten years ago stands the only man on the vaudeville stage in his line of work who has accomplished the art of using two separate and distinct voices at the same time.

From the dim and misty ages of antiquity down to the present time, the art of Ventriloquism has been regarded as one of the wonders and mysteries of the world. Even in this age of miracles, Ventriloquism still holds its place as one of the most entertaining accomplishments.

All Ventriloquists since the beginning of time have strived to attain one definite, but still elusive goal of ambition—Two Ventriloquial Voices Simultaneously. At last this has been accomplished. Whitney Ward, the Ventriloquist, after ten years of constant study on this one effect, is acknowledged as the First and Only Ventriloquist in the world using two separate and distinct ventriloquial voices at one and the same time.

Funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Couse.

There was a large attendance at the funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah A. Couse, which was held at two o'clock yesterday afternoon at her late home, 458 Main street. Many friends and neighbors testified by their presence and by the numerous and beautiful floral tributes, the depth of their sympathy and regard. Of the floral offerings in addition to the individual pieces, were tributes from the Deacons of the Main Street Baptist church, the Ladies' Circle and the Martha Chapter of the Eastern Star.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Charles S. Pendleton of the Main street Baptist church, for many years her pastor, who read appropriate scripture selections and followed with a comforting and sympathetic address in which fitting tribute was paid to one who for long years had been a Mother in Israel. Two hymns, "Face to Face," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," were sung by Mrs. Breta Fay and Miss Minnie Parks.

Interment was in the family plot in the Glenwood cemetery, the bearers, who were deacons of the church, being Bert Ackley, M. H. Quenken, Bush, A. E. Ceperley and George T. Gibbs. Among the friends in attendance from a distance was Mrs. Frederick D. Branch of Binghamton.

DEATH OF MRS. MERITHEW.

Well-Known Resident of East Branch of Oneonta dies Tuesday.

Oneonta, April 14.—Little Woodcock, wife of Winsor Merithew of this place, died Tuesday p. m. after a long illness of pneumonia, aged 46 years.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Woodcock of Davenport Center, and was born in the town of Oneonta, March 28, 1876. In 1891 she was married to Robert Fuller of Oneonta, and from that time her home was in the last named township.

Mr. Fuller died three years afterward and she subsequently married Mr. Merithew, who survives her along with two sons, James C. Fuller, a son of her first marriage, and William Merithew, now nine years of age; also her aged father, two granddaughters, four sisters—Mrs. Andrew Jacobs of Treadwell, Mrs. Chester O'Brien, Mrs. Oliver Hardendorf of Cherry Valley, and Mrs. George Hallett of Coudersport, Pa., and by several uncles, aunts, nephews and nieces.

She was a woman of noblest attributes of mind and heart, a loving wife, mother and sister, a loyal friend and neighbor. The family will have heart sympathy in its bereavement.

OBITUARY.

Henry J. Frommhaugen.

The funeral of H. J. Frommhaugen, whose death after long and painful illness, most patiently endured, was briefly noted in The Star of yesterday, will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late home, 42 Academy street. His pastor, Rev. Phillip M. Luther, will officiate, and interment will be in the family plot in the Plains cemetery.

Mr. Frommhaugen was born September 7, 1848, in Dannenberg, Northern Germany. He served the required period in the military service of his native land and later went to Hull, England, where he remained for 18 years, coming in 1893 to the United States, where he was married in New York city to Mrs. Sophia Fosland, of that city, whom he had known in earlier life in the home country. He came with his family to Oneonta sixteen years ago, and since that time had been successfully engaged in business, his occupation being ladies' tailoring. He had a large patronage and will be greatly missed in this city.

The deceased was a member of the Lutheran church of the Atonement and was for several years a member of the church council. He was a faithful and excellent workman, an upright citizen, a loving husband and father and a consistent Christian. Wherever known he will be greatly missed, and his demise will be much regretted.

The surviving members of his family are his wife, above named, and one son, Frederick C. Frommhaugen, pastor of a Lutheran church in Pittsburgh, Pa., also two sisters residing in Germany. Though suffering for years from an incurable disease, he was patient in the midst of pain, and leaves behind an example of genuine Christian fortitude.

Funeral of Delevan Osterhout.

The funeral of Delevan Osterhout was held from his late home at Emmons Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Elwood of the Emmons Methodist Episcopal church, who read suitable passages of scripture and gave appropriate remarks. Two songs were rendered by Fayette DeLong of Portlandville.

There were many floral tributes, among them a large cross from neighbors and friends. Interment was made in the family plot at Riverside cemetery, Oneonta, the bearers being B. L. Platt, Fred Murdoch, George Manchester, Frank McFee, Herbert Bacheller and Mr. Smith. Those in attendance from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Osterhout of Coopersburg, Mrs. Lizzie Burdick of Maryland and Henry Salisbury of Tully.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

deserves great credit for the splendid manner in which the oratorio was rendered, and he will be heartily greeted at other appearances.

Thomas Wilson is a brother of John and James Wilson of Delhi. Mrs. Robert Blair and Mrs. John Boyd, also of Delhi, are sisters. William Wilson, formerly of Delhi, now of Ellensburg, Wash., is another brother. Of the ten children of the Wilson family, six emigrated to America and four remained in Scotland. There are many nieces and nephews of this family on both sides of the Atlantic. Three of the young men of the family from Scotland made the supreme sacrifice during the World war.

RADIO EXPLAINED

BY E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y.M.C.A. RADIO SCHOOL

CAPACITIVE REACTANCE.

A direct current of electricity as from a battery or direct current dynamo will not flow in a circuit containing a condenser. This is because the dielectric is an insulator and prevents current flow. An alternating current will not actually flow through a condenser either, but it will appear to, since it is flowing to and fro on either side of the dielectric. The dielectric may be compared to an elastic partition in a pipe full of water. If a pump causes the water in the pipe to flow in one direction, then the other, the elastic partition will stretch in the alternate directions a certain distance. There will be a back pressure of the partition upon the pressure exerted by the pump, which is equal to the pump pressure at every instant. If the partition is sufficiently elastic, it will stretch without breaking, so that the water moves to and fro under the pressure of the pump without passing through the partition. The alternating current flows in a circuit containing a condenser in a similar manner and appears to be flowing through the condenser without actually doing so.

An alternating current is one whose strength periodically increases from zero to a maximum value and decreases to zero in first one direction, then the other. The alternations of current are due to increases and decreases of electrical pressure in alternate directions. A condenser in the circuit is alternately charged and discharged as the current changes. The back pressure of the condenser upon that of the source of electromotive force is constantly equal to the latter. If one increases and decreases the other does also, and both are in step with each other. Since there are opposing pressures, the current will not rise and fall in step with the applied pressure, but will attain its maximum value in each direction BEFORE the pressure. The current is then said to "lead" the pressure. Also, since the current does not rise and fall in step with the pressure changes there must be an effective resistance caused by the condenser. This effective resistance does not choke back the current, but assists it. If we call the effective resistance in this case "reactance" it is seen that the reactance under consideration has just the opposite effect of inductive reactance. We can call it "capacitive reactance." Capacitive reactance may then be used to nullify the effect of inductive reactance in an alternating current circuit. In the case of inductive reactance an increase of reactance means a decrease of current, providing the applied pressure remains constant. An increase of capacitive reactance, however, causes an increase of current under the same conditions.

Capacitive reactance decreases with an increase of either condenser capacity or frequency. The converse is also true—that is, that capacitive reactance increases with a decrease of either condenser capacity or frequency. Compare this with variation of inductive reactance.

Chorus—"Glad Bells of Easter Ringing."
Prayer.

FOR THE PUBLIC SAFETY

New Regulations of Public Service Commission Relative to Operations of Bus Lines over Grade Crossings.

Albany, April 14.—The Public Service commission today took steps to insure added protection to the public by adopting an order laying down drastic requirements in the operation and equipment of all stage and bus lines throughout the state under the jurisdiction of the commission.

The most important of the new requirements provides that all stages and buses must be brought to a full stop not less than 20 feet nor more than 50 feet from any grade crossing of a stream or interurban railroad over which the vehicle must pass, and to require the operator of the motor bus to look carefully in each direction before crossing. If the way is clear, the operator must cross with the transmission not higher than in second gear in the case of progressive or selective type transmissions, or low gear in the case of planetary transmissions.

Other New Requirements.

Other new requirements which go into effect at once are as follows: "That all such vehicles shall conspicuously display route or designation signs in front, and signs near the entrance indicating whether fares are collected on entering or leaving."

"That all vehicles must carry time tables conspicuously displayed and the amount of fare charged."

"That all owners of such vehicles shall by proper rules and regulations cause the operators to comply strictly with the provisions of the General Highway traffic and Highway law respecting speed, rules of the road, signals, parking, loading and unloading, equipment, registration, license of chauffeurs."

"That all such vehicles shall be maintained in a clean sanitary condition, and shall be lighted by artificial light at such times when being operated."

False Alarm Disturbs Firemen.

Alarm 55 rung in from the box at the corner of Chestnut and Pearl streets at 10:30 o'clock last evening, pulled the city firemen away from the enjoyable time they were having at their dance in Municipal hall and sent them posthaste to the locality. The only flames in sight were those from a small brush fire in the D. & H. yards near the roundhouse and the services of the men and truck were not needed. It developed that a woman residing nearby had seen the flames from the brush fire and thinking that they came from a dwelling turned in the alarm.

Tramp Quartet Haled Into Court.

A quartet of knights of the road pleaded guilty to charges of being state tramps when arraigned before Judge Huntington in city court yesterday morning and were given suspended sentences of 30 days each in the county jail. The men gave their names and addresses as Sam Brewer, Concord, N. C., Thomas King, Huntington, L. I., Peter Beigl, New York city, and Eugene Marsh and Michael Blus of nowhere in particular. They were arrested by D. & H. officers.

Van Horne Was District Attorney.

In an article in The Star of Wednesday relative to Henry Ward, omission was inadvertently made in the history of this tragic case of the name of Orange L. VanHorne, Esq., who was district attorney at the time. He had charge of the proceedings for the people, and conducted the case with the ability which distinguished his entire career as county prosecuting officer. If Mr. VanHorne has noted the omission he is assured that it was entirely unintentional, and he will no doubt consent to forgive and forget.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends, employees of round house, D. & H. shop crafts, federated committee, County Nurses' association and the First Methodist Episcopal church for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our boy, also for beautiful flowers sent and loaning of cars.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Storer, and daughter, Mary.

Card of Thanks.

For numerous acts of kindness and for helpful sympathy during the illness and following the death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Sarah A. Cousa, also for the beautiful flowers and for cars for the funeral, we wish to extend heartfelt thanks.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met yesterday in the church parlors at 2:30. Mrs. Henderson, as leader, conducted the meeting. There were many ladies in attendance and all showed much interest in the work that was being done. After the singing of the opening hymn, Mrs. Henderson introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Robertson, Red Cross nurse of Oneonta and vicinity. In order to show the ladies the character and scope of the work that is being done by the Red Cross in the city, Miss Robertson gave a detailed report of the calls she was obliged to make in a single day. She emphasized the importance of a motor car in the saving of time and energy and in covering wide territory. Miss Robertson gave an account of several personal incidents which lent a "human interest" touch and gained for her the sympathy of her hearers. At the close of her address the regular business meeting was held, and the closing remarks were delivered by the leader, Mrs. Henderson.

TREE PLANTING PARTIES

Conservation Club Receives Large Shipment of Trees — Planting Parties Arranged for Today and Tomorrow.

The Oneonta Conservation club has received from the State Conservation commission 10,000 three year old white pine trees and will immediately plant them on its forest and game preserve at Cooperstown Junction. Automobiles will leave the post office at 2 p. m. today and tomorrow to carry to the preserve all members of the club and friends who will join the tree planting party.

Mattocks and pails are already on hand, with the trees, at the club house on the preserve. It is desired by officials of the club that all who can possibly do so join the party today or tomorrow, or both, both to help plant the trees and to investigate the fish pond and other projects planned by the club.

Store Opening Postponed.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

It Is the Safe and Reliable Tonic Used By Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter of a century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It purifies the blood, improves the complexion, improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold in liquid form in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Adv.
